Ike on Way To Meetings With 'Team'

CPYRGHT

By ROBERT G. NIXON

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 21 (INS).—President Eisenhower begins top level conferences today with his highest advisers on foreign policy and domestic issues.

The Chief Executive was transferring his temporary White House for the next two days from his Gettysburg farm to closely-guarded Camp David, the Presidential retreat in the Catoclin Mountains of Maryland, 25 miles away.

CABINET MEETING.

The President scheduled a meeting with the National Security Council, which formulates security and defense policies, at 2:30 p. m.

He will meet with his cabinet at 9 a. m. tomorrow. It marked the first time the president was to preside over both groups of his top policy advisers since he left Washington Aug. 14 for his Colorado vacation. He suffered his heart attack in Denver on Sept. 24.

Eisenhower was to go by automobile to the Catoclin retreat with Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, super-secret, scanning agency of global troublespots.

Dulles was to give the President a detailed up-to-the minute report on the world situation to prepare him for the afternoon session of the NSC.

HELICOPTER HOP.

Many of the two dozen members of the Eisenhower "team" were to fly from Washington to the lodge near Thurmont, Md., by helicopter.

Among them was Vice President Nixon, who was flying to the capital from Florida, and take a small helicopter at National Airport.

Other NSC and cabinet members were to board three 'copters at the Pentagon heli-port for the 65-mile "eggbeater" lift to a special landing strip recently completed a short distance from the Presidential lodge.

The President will sit down with advisers in Laurel Lodge, the retreat's dining hall.

BEDS TO BE TOPIC.

The NSC meeting will give the President an opportunity to discuss the full implications of the hardened Soviet attitude displayed at the recent Big Four conference in Geneva and the new course of the cold war.

The latter was described by Secretary of State Dulles as "peaceful competition" between East and West in his Friday night report via radio and television. But Dulles emphasized that the cold war is on again, in full force.

Another burning topic in foreign policy is Israel's request for U. S. arms to offset large shipments of Communist weapons to Egypt.

From foreign policy and national security, the President will turn Tuesday to discussion of domestic issues with his Cabinet.

These discussions are expected to deal chiefly with the largest "trouble spot" on the national scene—the question of falling farm prices.
